This rochet is a custom item made from Royalty fabric worn with custom black Royalty chimere. Notice black bands and pleated cuff.

CHIMERE An upper robe of a Bishop, this red or black Dorian cloth garment serves as a symbol of the mantle of a prophet. The chimere is only worn by the Bishop because it signifies him as chief proclaimer and defender of the faith in the apostolic tradition. Worn over a rochet.

SLEEVELESS CASSOCK The sleeveless cassock is worn under the Rochet and is available in red or black Liberty fabric.

ROCHET SLEEVE TREATMENTS Tailored from white Dorian cloth poly/cotton, the rochet appears like a surplice but is below knee length and fitted at the sleeves. Worn over a sleeveless cassock. Coordinating sleeve bands to match cassock and chimere, in pleated cuff or French cuff.
